

Publication for the exhibition

“Women.Rights | From the Enlightenment to the present”

Women's rights are human rights. But Swiss women have only been given equal status to men in the constitution since 1981. The publication accompanying the exhibition "Women.Rights" at the National Museum Zurich shows with clear examples what effects the different treatment of the sexes in the law had on Swiss women's everyday life.

Available in German, French or Italian

Price: 23 Francs

88 pages, 37 illustrations

Published by the Swiss National Museum at Sandstein Verlag.